

A decorative border of red botanical illustrations surrounds the central text. The illustrations include various plants, flowers, and leaves, rendered in a detailed, engraved style. The border is composed of several distinct sections: a top section with large, broad leaves and a central flower; a left section with a cluster of small flowers and a large leaf; a right section with a large, textured leaf and a smaller flower; and a bottom section with a cluster of small flowers and a large, pointed leaf.
